TO THE TEACHER

SpringboardNYC is a two week concentrated pre-professional training course for college students planning careers in the theatre. We provide the job-seeking skills, insight into the business of theatre and the urban survival tools necessary to translate academic training into a productive career. The curriculum includes a series of workshops, seminars, master classes and field trips, placing participants in the center of New York's theatrical community, with access to influential working artists. Due to the limited number of spaces in the program, we are seeking those students who possess not only intelligence and talent but the intangibles that will enable them to succeed in an often challenging business.

If you have any questions, please contact Randy Ellen Lutterman at (212)765-0606 x307 or randy@theamericantheatrewing.org.

Please answer the questions below and apply your signature. Please return this form to the student in the envelope they have provided.

How long have you known this student and in what context?

What assets do you believe this student possesses that will help him/her achieve their ultimate desire of a professional life in the theatre? Please speak to their character, focus and seriousness of purpose.

Please feel free to add any additional comments you might think are important to note about this student here or on a separate page, including anything that might help us differentiate him/her from other candidates. (Feel free to attach a previous reference you may have prepared on behalf of this student.)
